

Pretty in Pink

Embrace breast cancer awareness in your day.

by Anne Marie Cummings

Chime In. Capture the secret music of the breeze. This delicate and colorful wind chime creates a soothing backdrop for an afternoon with friends. Capiz Wind Chime, $15, thebreastcancersite.com

Plant for Hope. Grow a garden of commemoration and compassion with this wildflower seed mixture that includes Shasta daisies, gayfeathers and other beautiful blooms. Breast Cancer Awareness Garden Bag of Blooms, $10, cancersocietystore.com

Accessorize with Love. Businesswomen, caregivers and girlfriends will have no trouble finding a use for this classic ID case. Delicately designed from durable materials, it will easily withstand a drop or two, and its reflective surface is perfect for a quick touch-up. Personalized ID Holder, 4"x 3", $30, gifttree.com

Dare to Do. Author Rebekah Shardy humorously helps us see that we can and must live out our adventurous fantasies by celebrating womanhood, no matter how eccentric our deepest secrets may seem. 98 Things a Woman Should Do in Her Lifetime, 3"x 4", $6, thebreastcancersite.com

Flip Out. Pad around the house or to the local mart and sport your support. Perfect after a long day in heels, these fun flip-flops will definitely get double takes. Save the Tatas flip-flops, $15, savethetatas.com